

What are the aims and intentions of this curriculum?

Demonstrate knowledge of the factors influencing travel and tourism organisations, destinations, visitors and the potential impacts of tourism on destinations

Term	Topics	Knowledge covered	Skills developed	Assessment
Autumn 1	Factors that influence global travel and tourism	understand that global destinations may change over time and that tourism may be managed and developed differently, depending on whether the destination is recently emerging or an established, mature destination	Research skills Writing skills Applying knowledge	Coursework
Autumn 2	Factors that influence global travel and tourism	understand that global destinations may change over time and that tourism may be managed and developed differently, depending on whether the destination is recently emerging or an established, mature destination	Research skills Writing skills Applying knowledge	Coursework
Spring 1	Impact of travel and tourism and sustainability	understand the possible negative and positive impact of tourism and visitor activities on global destinations	Research skills Writing skills Applying knowledge	Coursework
Spring 2	Impact of travel and tourism and sustainability	understand the possible negative and positive impact of tourism and visitor activities on global destinations	Research skills Writing skills Applying knowledge	Coursework
Summer 1	Destination management	understand that global destinations may change over time and that tourism may be managed and developed differently, depending on whether the destination is recently emerging or an established, mature destination	Research skills Writing skills Applying knowledge	Coursework
Summer 2	Destination management	understand that global destinations may change over time and that tourism may be managed and developed differently, depending on whether the destination is recently emerging or an established, mature destination	Research skills Writing skills Applying knowledge Evaluation skills	Coursework